

Proclamation

CONSUMER EDUCATION WEEK

WHEREAS, Americans live in a consumer society and personal consumption expenditures are increasing rapidly and, concurrently, the costs of living, education and government are rising; and

WHEREAS, families are more concerned with income-earning than income-spending or income-managing; and

WHEREAS, consistent growth of consumer credit is anticipated due to the many favorable factors underlying credit use—including higher living standards, higher incomes, greater willingness to incur debt, and widespread credit availability; and

WHEREAS, the complexities of the market place, the increasing development of products, the power of advertising, changing merchandising methods, and a wide array of prices confront the consumer when he attempts to make rational, logical purchases; and

WHEREAS, consumers often lack the ability to evaluate consumer information; and

WHEREAS, frequently consumers are not fully aware of the kinds of community service available to them which would increase their competence as consumers;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Finis Odom, Judge of Hempstead County, in recognition of the needs and demands of the consumer, do hereby proclaim the week of November 6 - 10 as National Consumer Education Week in Hempstead County, in witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of this County to be affixed this 7 day of November 1967.

Saturn 5 Is Poised for Big Test

By LAWRENCE LEE
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 5 super-rocket is poised today for Thursday's high-stakes flight to test its worthiness as a thoroughbred work-horse of the American space program.

Technicians scrambled in the shadow of the 36-story-high machine to complete the countdown ticking toward a 7 a.m. EST Thursday launch.

The workmen spent Tuesday readying an Apollo spacecraft, much like the one astronauts will use for the moon trip, for its ride atop Saturn 5. Today's chores called for checkouts and first fueling of the rocket itself. Worksheets for today were punctuated with stop-points where the space agency must decide if things are going well enough to continue. If work lags, a built-in 7½-hour hold can be used to catch up, and a Thursday launch could be delayed to as late as midday.

Never before has the space agency launched anything as big, powerful and complicated as Saturn 5, but this is the vehicle built to send Americans on their way to the moon. The mighty ship is crammed with equipment untested in space. Although its maiden flight is to be unmanned and only 8½ hours long, cameras and sensors aboard seek answers to thousands of open questions about the rocket's limitations.

The Saturn 5 weighs 6 million pounds, of which 5.6 million pounds is propellant, enough to orbit the combined weight of everything America has sent into space before.

Its first stage, untested in flight, is to spend most of the total rocket's fuel and thrust to loft it 38½ miles over the Atlantic.

There, the oxygen-hydrogen powered second stage, also making its flight debut, is to take over and carry the vehicle up to 117 miles. The proven third stage is to place itself and the Apollo craft into a circular parking orbit.

weeks of fruitless negotiations. Many diplomats felt, however, that the purpose was to prevent Jordan from accepting an American proposal, one of the two rival plans submitted.

The American draft, already rejected by the Russians, calls for the withdrawal of armed forces from occupied territories and stresses the need for "a limitation of the wasteful and destructive arms race in the area."

Informed sources said that King Hussein of Jordan, now visiting in the United States, had told U.S. officials that he would not "interpose any objection" to the U.S. plan.

The other proposal, submitted by India, Mali and Nigeria, calls for Israeli withdrawal "from all territories occupied as a result of the recent conflict." Israel considers this wording prejudicial to it.

Both drafts call for a U.N. representative to be sent to the Middle East to seek a settlement, but they differ on the terms of his assignment.

Both proposals also seek an end to the 20-year Arab state of belligerency against Israel, recognition of the right of freedom of navigation of international waterways and the need to solve the Arab refugee problem. But there is also conflict over the wording of these principles.

An Israeli spokesman termed the three-nation draft "an Arab-Soviet resolution which tries to dictate surrender terms" to Israel.

Philadelphia Mayor Is Re-elected

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate beat the polls, his own party bosses and a young Republican challenger in a cliffhanger Tuesday to win re-election in the nation's fourth largest city.

The contest also served as a preliminary skirmish for Pennsylvania's 1968 presidential electoral votes. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had said the Keystone state could shift into the GOP column if Philadelphia elected a Republican mayor.

Republican Dist. Atty. Arien Specter, 37, a former Democrat brought in the U.S. Senate's only Negro member, Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, in a stab to siphon off some of the city's heavy Negro vote. But it didn't work.

The 57-year-old Tate, though failing to get a majority of the 717,182 votes cast, squeaked past Specter and three minority party candidates, two of them Negroes. The mayor called it "the fight of my life."

It was the tightest election here since 1911.

Democrats also captured most other offices, winning 13 of 17 council seats.

Tate got 350,585 in the unofficial tally; Specter 339,628; Cecil B. Moore of the Political Freedom party 8,775; the Rev. Leonard Small of the Consumers party 6,409, and Joseph J. Frieland of the Constitutional party 11,785.

Moore, former president of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and Small, a Baptist minister, are Negroes.

Tate's margin over Specter, first Jewish nominee in Philadelphia history, was 10,957, or about 1½ per cent of their combined total.

Kentucky Has a GOP Governor

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louie B. Nunn, a country lawyer, has been elected the first Republican governor of Kentucky in 24 years but Democrats have kept control of the legislature and lieutenant governorship.

The mild upset Tuesday did not provide a firm clue on whether Nunn's denunciation of President Johnson's policies was a major contributing factor.

Nunn said, "Perhaps it's a victory for the people of America because I'm sure they're taking note tonight at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue."

Nunn defeated Democrat Henry Ward, a former highway commissioner supported by the state regime, by about 21,000 votes in a moderate turnout.

With 2,927 of 3,031 precincts reporting, Nunn had 429,931 and Ward 408,403.

The victory was a comeback from a previous defeat in 1963 when Nunn lost to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt by only 13,000 votes.

Ward, 58, had three decades of political and governmental experience but was regarded by many as an unglamorous candidate lacking voter appeal.

Nunn, a 43-year-old former county judge from South Kentucky, criticized Ward's record and the two past Democratic regimes for what he called reckless spending and disregard of the little man.

His basic theme was that it was time for a change at the state capitol at Frankfort and an opportunity to show the President that Kentuckians oppose national and Vietnam policies.

However, his campaign was a departure from the 1963 script—when he heatedly denounced an integration order of then-Gov. Bert Combs and emotionally defended Bible reading in schools despite a U.S. Supreme Court decision to the contrary.

Cotton Crop Estimate Is Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's late harvest season report today estimated cotton production at 7,969,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, down 120,000 bales from last month's forecast.

The indicated crop compares with 8,089,000 bales forecast in October, 9,575,000 grown last year and 14,335,000 for the 1961-65 average.

The crop is the smallest since 1921. It was grown under a government program offering farmers substantial payments and price supports for holding a part of their cotton land out of production.

The purpose of this program was to provide a market for surpluses accumulated in past years. Next year, growers will be encouraged to increase production.

The indicated yield per harvested acre for Arkansas is 401 pounds with a total production of 660,000 bales.

The yield of cotton lint per acre was indicated at 448 pounds compared with 480 last year and 491 for the five-year average.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 3,289,153 running bales of cotton were ginned before Nov. 1. This compared with 5,007,297 to the same late last year.

Reaction to LBJ's Plea to People

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's request that people write their congressmen about his proposed tax hike is bringing results—but not exactly those Johnson hoped for, an Associated Press survey indicates.

Only a few congressmen queried from constituents asking for the tax boost. Most said the President's appeal for public support last week resulted in a flood of mail opposing the proposal.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., a House Ways and Means Committee member who has backed the tax hike measure, reported receiving a letter from home saying: "I hear the President wants us to write you to ask for a tax increase. I am asking you to vote against a tax increase."

In the same vein was a letter to Democratic Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, whose district encompasses New York's wealthy Westchester County. The woman correspondent said her letter was prompted by Johnson's appeal, but added: "I don't want any higher taxes."

There were some scattered exceptions to the trend, however.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., received this message from a West Orange constituent:

"While I am not in sympathy with everything which has been emanating from the White House, I do believe that the best interests of the country will be served by the enactment of surtax of incomes."

Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes also drew backing from a rural Illinois man, who wrote his congressman:

"I never thought I would write you asking that you raise my taxes but I'm doing just that. My fear of inflation with the erosion of purchasing power is greater than my fear of the surtax proposed by the President."

But by far most letters they've received oppose any tax hike, congressmen said. Ottinger put the mail count at 99 to 1 against and Rep. Peter H. B. Freylinghuysen, R-N.J., said his count is 98 to 2 against.

Others reporting mostly anti-tax hike mail were Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Calif., 12 to against; Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., 30 to 2; Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., 19 to 1.

Some representatives and senators said they had received little or no mail on the subject since Johnson's appeal.

Along with a lot of letters opposing the tax boost came a few suggestions.

"The honest and fair thing to do is to place the surtax on the excess war profits and not on the small taxpayers who have not had these gains," suggested one constituent of Van Deerlin's.

"End the war, quit giving our money to Communist countries, stop supporting the ingrates in the whole world and we won't need an increase in taxes," was a message received by Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla.

DOES BIG BUSINESS SPECIALIZE IN MONKEY-BUSINESS?

Dear Helen: The letter by the Lover Boy who bragged about cheating at conventions really burned me since my husband attends such things and our marriage is on shaky ground. These so-called "business conventions" are just monkey-business excuses for infidelity sanctified by the Organization. Why do companies almost always insist on hiring married men, then weaken the marriage by making it easy for the husband to play around?

I believe Big Business is responsible for more "marriage drift" than any other factor. If temptations weren't so easily supplied to men, maybe they would behave themselves. Actually, it's status symbol these days to have a mistress—if you do, you're considered one of the inner circle. And if you don't pick up a dame when you're at a convention, the men think you're a little odd. I know—I've been a company wife for a long time. The married man who "gets around" is admired. The stay-at-home husband hardly ever makes it to a vice-presidency.

And what of the wife? Well, she either gets a divorce and finds herself another man she HOPES won't follow the crowd; or she finds herself another man, with out benefit of divorce; or she simply pretends this side of her man doesn't exist. Long ago gave up trying to make my husband a one-woman man. But I'm a one-woman woman, and I'm tired of pretending... But too comfortable in my fine home and country-club life to leave. You see I'm honest too: While I hate Big Business for destroying my marriage, I know that it has given me advantages I couldn't give up. So what's next? CORPORATION WIFE

Dear Wife: you've already decided what's next... more of the same until your marriage drifts so far off course that you no longer care about anything but "comforts".

Has it occurred to you that "Big Business" may not be as much at fault as complacent wives?—H.

Management Specialist

ELIZABETH ELLIS

What is teflon, is it dangerous, how can it be cleaned, is it worth the price? Elizabeth Ellis, Home Management Specialist, Extension Service, University of Arkansas, pictured above, will be discussing various types of cooking utensils and finishes at consumer meetings November 9 at the District Livestock Show Coliseum. Two sessions are being held for the convenience of consumers from 1:00 till 2:30 p.m. and 7:00 till 9:00 p.m. All consumers in the county area are encouraged to attend one of these educational meetings. The specialist will be giving the factual truths about the wide array of utensils on the market, discussing the advantages and disadvantages. The specialist offers an unbiased scientific explanation of the whys and hows of utensils in a kitchen language that will prove to be enlightening and interesting to homemakers.

Homemakers will see experimental cooking results in contrast examples of the correct and incorrect usage of utensils on the surface burners and inside oven of the ranges as illustrated by Melba Doyle, Home Service Advisor, Arkansas Power and Light Company.

These consumer meetings are being held during Consumer Education Week and American Education Week sponsored by the County Family Living Committee in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service and various organizations in the county area to help consumers make rational, logical purchases and use and care for utensils to best advantages.

Local dealers are cooperating with the meetings by providing some utensils for displays to illustrate the availability of local market.

Rose Garden Club will be adding a touch of glamour to the beauty of utensils in the displays. There will be door prizes and coffee will be served at the conclusion of meetings.

The meetings are being promoted in various organizations to reach the consumer such as F. H. A. clubs, 4-H clubs, P.T.A.'s, garden clubs, church groups, Junior Auxiliary, Extension Homemakers groups, V.F.W., and others.

Be an informed-consumer—equipped with intelligent questions and understanding about the "whys" of utensils. Contact Delores McBride, Extension Home Economist, Mrs. Arch Wylie, Chairman of the Family Living Committee, or the organizations listed above for more information about the meetings.

Mayor Was Not Invited

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Magnolia Mayor Vas Godley said Monday that he was not invited to the two-day state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and that was the reason he did not attend.

The conference ended here Sunday. Dr. Jerry D. Jewell of Little Rock, state NAACP president, said in a speech Sunday prior to an address by Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, that "the mayor or his appointed representative" should come forward to welcome Wilkins.

No one answered Jewell's invitation and he later said that he was displeased.

"Hell, they didn't even invite me," Godley said. "If they had, I'd have been proud to welcome Wilkins."

Jewell said Monday that he hadn't personally seen to it that Godley was invited but that he assumed he would be.

Cepeda Is Nat'l Most Valuable

By M. MARTINEZ-ROUSSET
SAN JUAN (AP) — Puerto Rican Orlando Cepeda, named the National League's Most Valuable Player in a unanimous vote, is a very happy and proud man.

Interviewed at his Bayamon home after his selection today, Cepeda gave most of the credit for his award and tremendous comeback with the world champions St. Louis Cardinals to team trainer Dr. Robert Bauman, "whose selflessness and hard work helped me greatly this year."

The Cards' big first baseman became the first player in the history of the National League to receive unanimous support from the MVP award.

He won with the highest batting average since Pittsburgh's Dick Groat won it batting .325 in 1960. Cepeda finished the season also with .325, hit 25 homers and batted in 111 runs, top in the circuit.

"This is the most marvelous thing that could happen to a ball player," Cepeda said after receiving a telephone call from St. Louis announcing the award.

"I feel very proud, but I really don't know what to say. I want to thank all the people who helped me."

"This is so big, specially when I was so close to quitting the game because of my knee injury. Imagine, for the second year in a row a Puerto Rican player wins the award," Cepeda added.

He was referring to Roberto Clemente, the Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder winner last year and third in the voting this year. Clemente received 129 points this time and finished behind catcher Tim Lincecum of the Cardinals, who got 136 points.

Ron Santo, Chicago third baseman, was fourth and Hank Aaron, Atlanta outfielder, was fifth.

Cepeda was named as the number one choice on all the 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America named to pick the MVP. He received 280 points.

The 30-year-old player in his 10th season in the majors. He was traded last year by the San Francisco Giants to the Cards for pitcher Ray Sadecki.

Florida State Player Did Just That

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Florida State Coach Bill Peterson got on the telephone early this fall and asked Dale McCullers if he would like to play football.

Now Memphis State is the latest opponent of the Seminoles who wished Peterson had gotten the wrong number.

McCullers, a junior linebacker, figured in more than half his team's tackles last Saturday, leading the defense that sparked Florida State over Memphis State 26-7 for its fifth straight victory.

"It was the greatest game I've ever seen a college linebacker play," said Peterson, and for that performance, McCullers was named The Associated Press Lineman of the Week today.

The 6-foot-2, 198-pounder made 17 tackles and assisted on six others as Memphis managed only 38 plays from scrimmage. He also threw Memphis quarterbackbacks for losses totaling 38 yards and recovered a fumble at the Seminole 21 when Memphis appeared on its way to a touchdown on the game's first series of downs.

"It was McCullers, more than anybody, who stopped their running game cold when it looked like early in the game they were going to run us off the field with it," Peterson said after Memphis gained 180 yards in the first half and only four in the second.

Florida State almost lost McCullers, but for Peterson's phone call a month before the season began. Peterson had not figured on him because McCullers took a job and missed spring practice.

"We heard just before fall practice that he might be interested in coming back out for football," Peterson said, "and we gave him a call. I hate to think what shape we'd be in if we hadn't made that call."

Brothers Are in Annual Passing War

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual passing war between brothers Bobby and Glenn Dobbs is in full swing with Bobby winning the latest battle in the college football offensive statistical rankings.

The University of Texas at El Paso, coached by Bobby, replaced Tulsa, coached by Glenn, as the passing leader this week with an average of 330.8 yards a game through the air, National Collegiate Sports Service statistics showed today.

The battle between the brothers has been going on since Bobby left Tulsa for UTEP three years ago and Glenn replaced him. Discounting the first two warmup weeks of each season since 1965, Tulsa and UTEP have ranked 2 or 3 nationally in passing 16 times in 21 weeks.

Tulsa also gave up its month-long lead in total offense to UTEP, 436.0 yards a game to 429.8.

Texas Tech climbed from fourth to take the rushing lead with 269.4 yards a game on the ground, ahead of East Carolina's 251.3. Tech rolled up 359 yards rushing in a 24-10 victory over Rice.

In scoring, it was again UTEP and Tulsa, 43.2 points a game to 35.2, the same places they held last week.

Says State G&F Group Dominated

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The state Game and Fish Commission has "allowed the majority to become dominated by two men and their underlings," the president of the Arkansas Fox and Wolf Hunters Association said Tuesday.

"No where can I find in Amendment 35 a word or phrase that authorizes the chief of the game division, Gene Rush, or the executive director, Hugh Hackler, to penalize any particular outdoor sport for the purpose of building a deer herd to what they say will be an unprecedented size," said Fenton Stanley of Malvern.

Stanley's remarks, which were in protest of a recent Game and Fish Commission ruling that will prevent hunters from allowing their dogs to run from April 1 through July 31, were in a speech to be telecast Wednesday over Television Station KTVB.

He said Hackler and Rush had complained that the dogs were endangering the state's deer herd, but that the annual deer kill in Arkansas had increased from 1,887 in 1945 to 20,028 in 1967. He said the use of dogs in fox, raccoon and rabbit hunting had continued without restriction during the same period.

The Game and Fish Commission was created in 1945 by Amendment 35.

Stanley said he was afraid the new regulation was a harbinger of restrictions on other outdoor activities, and cautioned the commission against abusing its wide discretion.

Weasel Joins the Flea for the Saints

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
"The Weasel" joined "The Flea" on the honor list today for the New Orleans Saints, still savoring their first victory in the National Football League.

"The Weasel" — corner back Dave Whitsett — was named the NFL's Defensive Player of the Week today by The Associated Press for his efforts in the Saints' 31-24 conquest of the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday.

Whitsett, a 31-year-old pickup in the expansion draft from the Chicago Bears, is noted for his blocks of placement kicks and his pass interceptions.

It was an interception of a Norm Snead pass for a 41-yard touchdown in the third quarter that gained the 6-foot-1, 190-pounder his defensive laurels of the week.

Whitsett has bagged seven passes so far this season to lead the NFL in this department. He has run back two of them for touchdowns, tying him for first in the league.

The NFL record of three is shared by Dick Lynch, the retired Giant, and Herb Adderley of the Green Bay Packers.

"The Flea" — flanker Walt Roberts — was picked as the NFL's Offensive Player of the Week by the AP Tuesday for three sensational touchdowns against the favored Eagles.

Roberts ran the opening kickoff 91 yards for a touchdown, scooped up teammate Jimmy Taylor's fumble and raced 27 yards for a score, and romped 19 yards with a pass from Gary Cuozzo in the fourth quarter for the Saints' winning margin.

According to statistics released today by the league.

The Giants have gained an average of 399.9 yards per game. The Los Angeles Rams are the rushing leaders with 152.4 yards per game, and the Baltimore Colts lead in passing offense with 277.1 yards per game.

The Green Bay Packers lead in total defense, having allowed 217.1 yards per game, and also lead in passing defense with a 92.9 average. The Baltimore Colts rushing defense with a 23.7 yard average.

Indiana and Dallas Save Best for Last

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Indiana and Dallas saved the best for last and walked off with victories in the only American Basketball Association games scheduled Tuesday night.

Indiana, leaders in the Eastern Division, was losing by a point starting the final period against Pittsburgh, but ripped off nine straight points at one stretch and breezed home 100-81 in Pittsburgh. It was the ninth victory in 11 games for the Packers.

Dallas had the same problem shaking Oakland and trailed 82-81 before putting on a final flurry that carried the Chaparrals to a 118-112 victory in Dallas.

Bob Netolicky scored 23 points for the Packers, who outscored the Pipers 34-16 in the last period. Connie Hawkins had 17 for Pittsburgh, which lost for the fourth time in nine games.

Dallas went from its 81-82 lead to a 118-107 spread before Oakland scored the last five points. Bob Vega had 23 points and John Beasley 21 in the balanced Dallas attack. Jim Harrison had 36 and Willie Porter 29 for the Oaks.

Dallas is now 3-3 and Oakland 4-6.

In the National Basketball Association, Boston beat Cincinnati 113-103, St. Louis whipped Chicago 111-106, Philadelphia downed San Diego 139-107 and San Francisco defeated Seattle 126-112.

Camden Is Victim of Hope Team

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Another football team has finished its schedule for 1967, namely the Hope High "B" team. The "B" Lisards, as they have been affectionately called in the past few years, walloped the Camden "B" team to the tune of 33-13 Monday night at Hammons Stadium.

That gave the local team a season mark of 3-2-1, and Coach Bill Lawrence's charges gained plenty of experience against good opponents in preparation for next year. The Bobkittens wound up their campaign a week ago, and when the Bobcats run out of opponents it will be evaluation time again.

Happily for many, it's "run, shoot, and holler" time again, and by that I could only mean basketball season. Returning some 12 lettermen and all six starters, the Hope Lady Cats appear to be ready for their opener next Thursday, and also the Junior Girls are making rapid progress toward their first date with the Senior Girls.

On the other hand, the Hope Bobcats haven't as much of an advantage in their pre-season practices, but Head Coach Joe Austin has the Cats working hard since they started last week. Approximately 18 boys have come out for basketball, with more expected from the football team next week.

No serious injuries have been reported after the Warren game last Friday, as the Bobcats continue to prepare for their grand finale against Nashville in two days. Jerry McWilliams, halfback, suffered a slight concussion in the third period of last week's game, but will be all right for the Nashville game.

Entering the game the Bobcats will be remembering the 26-7 defeat at the hands of the Scrappers last year, and the Cats have resolved to further soil the Nashville 6-1 record on the year. Kickoff time at Hammons Stadium is set for 7:30 p.m. Friday night.

Houston Grid Player Back of the Week

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston fullback Paul Gipson gave the Cougar offensive line credit today for his being named Associated Press College Back of the Week.

The 205-pound junior's performance last Saturday in the Cougars' 15-14 defeat of fifth ranked Georgia earned him the honor.

He ground out 229 yards on 29 carries, scored on a 25-yard run and raced around end for the winning two-point conversion.

He also added a 13-yard gain and Georgia defensive halfback Terry Sellers was left groggy after tackling the bruising fullback. On the next play Houston quarterback Dick Woodall hit split end Ken Herbert with a 57-yard scoring pass. Both Houston and Georgia players felt Sellers' slightly dazed condition was a big factor in Herbert's catch of the pass.

"Those guys up front did a great job all night," Gipson said

Cincinnati Did Miss the Big O

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati didn't have Oscar Robertson and missed him. Chicago didn't have Reggie Harding and didn't.

The Royals were whipped by Boston 113-103 in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night and the lack of the injured Big O was critical.

The Bulls were beaten, too, 111-106 by St. Louis, about as close as the have-not Bulls have been to their second victory this season. Harding, the big Chicago center, was suspended for failing to rejoin the club after leaving it when his mother died in Detroit.

In other NBA games, Philadelphia downed San Diego 130-105 and San Francisco whipped Seattle 126-112.

Sam Jones led the Celtics to victory over the Royals, scoring 10 straight points in the third quarter, the only points he scored in the game. John Havlicek was Boston's high scorer with 23 points while Adrian Smith had 27 for Cincinnati.

The Hawks, 12-1 on the season as opposed to the Bulls' 1-10 mark, almost blew the game after having a 17-point lead in the second period. Chicago tied the game with a minute to go, but consecutive baskets by Paul Silas and Joe Caldwell forced the victory.

Wilt Chamberlain got 19 points, his high for the season, six of them sparking a 12-point Philadelphia spurt in the second quarter against San Diego. Ha Greer was high for the 76ers with 30. Dave Gambee got 20 for San Diego.

The victory put Philadelphia back on top in the Eastern Division by a half-game over Boston.

San Francisco surged in the second half, scoring 33 points in each of the last two periods after Seattle had trailed by only one point at halftime. Fred Hetzel paced the Warriors with 25 points while Bob Weiss topped the Super sonics with 20.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana whipped Pittsburgh 100-83 and Dallas defeated Oakland 118-112.

Jim Nance Leads AFL in Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance of Boston leads the American Football League's rushers and Oakland's Hewitt Dixon is the top pass catcher, but the versatility leader is Kansas City's Mike Garrett.

Garrett ran for 192 yards in the Chiefs' 42-18 thrashing of New York last Sunday and moved into second place behind Nance in the rushing statistics. He has 671 yards to Nance's 822.

But among the nine AFL players who have gained more than 100 yards rushing and receiving, Garrett is the leaders. His 140 yards on catches give him 811 overall, 59 yards more than Keith Lincoln of Buffalo. Dixon has caught 43 passes for 423 yards to lead that department. Len Dawson of Kansas City is the top passer with 119 completions in 197 attempts for a 60.4 average.

Emerson Boozer of New York leads the scorers with 78 points on 13 touchdowns but is out for the season with torn ligaments in his right knee.

Great Day for Florida State Passer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — In one afternoon, Kim Hammond fired 24 passes for 302 yards, vaulted from seventh to first in the nation in total offense—and didn't even get the seat of his pants dirty.

"I was rushed once or twice, but not enough to bother me," the Florida State quarterback said Tuesday of the methodical job he did Saturday in helping defeat Memphis State, 26-7.

"I was never in a situation where I couldn't get the ball away. Sometimes, I had a choice of four or five receivers."

As FSU displayed perhaps the nation's most advanced passing techniques before a regional television audience, Hammond boosted his total offense mark for the season to 1,580 yards, 102 up on Sal Olivias of New Mexico State.

The modest Hammond, a senior, takes little credit for himself and gives much to his teacher, Coach Bill Peterson.

"Mechanically, I think I could improve," he said. "I've had better games."

"A lot of it is the coaching. Peterson is the best coach in college football with the pro passing attack."

"And our line has been steadily improving. I had excellent protection."

Grabs Lead in New Cage Association

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ivern Tart, of Oakland who scored a record 49 points against Anaheim, has taken over the individual scoring lead in the American Basketball Association.

The weekly statistics, released by the league today, show the former Bradley University star on top with 235 points in eight games, an average of 29.4.

Bob Verga, former Duke star now with Dallas, fell to second place with an average of 28.4. Daniel Carrier of Kentucky is third with 24.9 and Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh fourth at 23.6. James Jones of New Orleans is fifth at 23.6.

Canadian Is Second UCLA Scorer

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — This may be difficult to equate, but the second leading scorer for the UCLA football team, just behind star quarterback Gary Beban, is a javelin thrower from Canada who until this season never played in a football game.

He is Zenon Andrusyshyn, a strong, strapping, 6-foot-2, 205-pound sophomore, whose soccer-style kicking has been a vital factor in the Bruins' unbeaten, once-tied record this fall.

Big Z, which is easier to spell than his surname, has kicked 11 field goals, the longest 52 yards, and succeeded on 21 of 23 conversions, all for 54 points.

Beban's 10 touchdowns give him 60 points.

In addition to place kicking, Zenon has developed into a great punter. In 19 punts, he is averaging 44.36 — and he is a dangerous punter.

Dangerous? Yes, because sometimes neither Zenon nor the enemy receivers can foretell exactly which direction the ball will take nor which direction it'll bounce.

Last Saturday Andrusyshyn kicked three field goals from 52—a school record—33 and 26 yards, and his four punts averaged 47.7. One punt traveled 54, another took a funny bounce and rolled 61 yards.

Andrusyshyn came to UCLA on a track scholarship, acclimated as Canada's finest javelin thrower.

He had played soccer since age seven in Oakeville, Ontario, Canada. Last spring at UCLA, nursing a sore elbow which kept him out of track, Zenon's curiosity was drawn to UCLA place kickers in practice.

He wasn't impressed; he gave it a try, and was disappointed that he couldn't kick too well from 40-45 yards.

Then he discovered these peculiar Americans used a kicking tee.

were 96,140 votes against U.S. withdrawal from the Asian war, 55,051 in favor of the proposition.

Mayors were elected in scores of U.S. cities, but in many instances, shifts in party control of the office on one city were balanced by reverse switches in another.

Republicans took particular delight in one victory: The upset triumph of Ann Uccello, who ousted incumbent Democrat George B. Kinsella to become mayor of Hartford, Conn.—the home town of Democratic chairman Bailey.

Bliss pointed as well to New Jersey, where Republicans took firm command of a legislature now Democratic by a 2 to 1 margin. The state Democratic chairman said it appeared Republicans would have an edge of more than 3 to 1 in the Senate and nearly as much in the Assembly.

"The campaign in New Jersey was run on the national issue 'why wait until 68,' and the results are very significant," Bliss said.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., had said a Democratic victory would be deemed by the White House an endorsement of its Vietnam policy. Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes denied that claim and state analysts generally held the outcome to be the product of local and state issues.

"This is another victory from the bottom up," Bliss said, "upon which the resurgent strength of the party is based." "The only thing that is clear," Bailey countered, "is that no particular national trend is discernible now."

Cleveland's Stokes won by 2,497 votes over Republican Seth C. Taft. The final, unofficial tally: Stokes, 129,825; Taft 127,328.

Taft mounted an early lead as returns rolled in from predominantly white neighborhoods but Stokes overtook and passed him as the Negro vote poured in.

"It's a wonderful moment," said Stokes, 30, great-grandson of a slave, son of a scrubwoman, a state legislator running in a city where Negroes are outnumbered 2 to 1. Stokes upset Mayor Ralph S. Locher in the Democratic primary.

"Forget the words spoken in heat," loser Taft, grandson of President William Howard Taft, told the voters. Taft said his decision on a possible recount will depend on the official vote tally.

In Gary, Hatcher edged Republican Joseph Radigan by a 1,495-vote margin. Radigan charged vote frauds and refused to concede the election.

McCarthy to Sound in 4 States

By JACK BELL

AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., takes soundings in four key states this weekend to plumb the depth of Democratic party opposition to President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

In connection with scheduled speeches in St. Paul, Minn., on Thursday, Ann Arbor, Mich., on Friday, Boston on Saturday and Chicago on Sunday, McCarthy said he plans talks with party leaders to learn the extent of anti-Johnson sentiment in their areas.

McCarthy, who has said he believes there is widespread Democratic discontent with Johnson's war policies, indicates his findings on the weekend tour may help him decide whether to oppose the President in some 1968 presidential primaries.

The Minnesota senator, whose name was one Johnson mentioned in 1964 to conceal for a time his choice of Hubert H. Humphrey as his vice presidential runningmate, denied in an interview Tuesday that he and the President have reached a political parting of the ways.

"You don't reach a point of no return in politics," McCarthy said.

"The question here is not one of personalities but of issues. It is better to have the party openly divided on such issues as Vietnam than to try to cover up the division by a false front of unity."

He said Johnson's attacks on his Democratic war critics have not contributed to party discussion of the issues.

"The President has had experience in handling cattle," he said.

Democratic organization, told his heavily-Negro victory rally: "Let us begin by conducting ourselves in such a fashion that no one can find a basis of criticism. Any incident in the city on this night will spoil the victory."

White's Boston mayoral victory was applauded by allies in both parties. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, a Republican, both turned up to congratulate him.

They had joined a near solid line-up of state political leaders to support Democrat White in the nonpartisan contest against the controversial Mrs. Hicks, a Democrat herself.

Mrs. Hicks, a 48-year-old grandmother, vaulted to prominence and controversy on her opposition to the transportation of Negro schoolchildren into white areas to achieve racial balance in the schools.

White won, 102,551 to 90,122. Kentucky's Nunn, a conservative lawyer from the southern corner of the state, defeated former highway commissioner Henry Ward by some 21,000 votes. Edward T. Breathitt, a Democrat, is governor now, and Ward was his chosen successor.

There, too, racial factors surfaced during the campaign. Ward charged Nunn was running a campaign of bigotry. But, while both men opposed open housing laws, it was Ward who advocated a state law barring local open occupancy ordinances. There were signs that many Kentucky Negroes stayed away from the polls.

Democrats held control of the Kentucky legislature.

Virginia's legislature remained heavily Democratic as well, although outnumbered Republicans scored a sharp percentage gain by picking up at least four seats. A Negro, Dr. William Ferguson Reid, was elected to the legislature, first of his race to do so since Reconstruction era.

The Democratic victory in Philadelphia belonged to Mayor James H. J. Tate, who defeated Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen J. Specter, elected to his current office two years ago, had been rated a rising young man in Pennsylvania GOP politics.

Landy Bid Can Invite Trouble

When playing the Landy convention, what do you do when your partner asks you to bid a major suit and you don't have one?

You aren't happy and you may be in trouble, but you should pass his two club bid only with something like seven clubs and singletons in both majors. If you have three cards in one major, just bid it and hope for the best; otherwise bid two diamonds, two no-trump or three clubs.

Two diamonds says, "You got us in trouble. Get yourself out into the best spot." Two no-trump says, "I have a good hand with nothing in the majors. I am willing to play here or in either minor if you have three cards there."

Three clubs says, "I have a good hand with three cards in each major."

Today's hand shows the Landy convention misused.

South should simply pass one no-trump. If everyone passed,
East would be set at least two tricks. As it was, South had to struggle at three spades.

He won the diamond lead in dummy, took a spade finesse and played his king of hearts.
East was in with the ace and cashed his king of clubs. Then he led a second diamond.
South won in dummy, cashed his ace of spades and led out hearts. It didn't matter what East did with his king of trumps. All he could make was a total of four tricks.

What was wrong with South's use of Landy? Simply that he was sticking out his neck a mile. The Landy convention is meant to be used when you have at least five cards in each major and occasionally with 5-4 in the back in seat where it is a trifle safer to get into action. When you bid right in back of a no-trump, you may find your partner with a bust.

What do you do?

A: Bid two spades. This is a tough one and we would have no real criticism of a pass, a double or a two diamond call.

Home Psychological Situation Fouled

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) —
"The home psychological situation, to use a military cliché, is all fouled up," said Mrs. Irvin
E. Hendryson, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Trouble can develop, she said,
"when dad assumes the mother's submissive home-fire-tending role," and mom usurps dad's "dominant bread-winning, fiscal-management role."

"All this when psychologists and sociologists cry out for discipline and authority in all children's lives," she added.

Mrs. Hendryson, a grandmother of four from Denver, spoke Thursday at the Maryland PTA convention.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Canadian Study Made On Alcoholic Matings

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A change-over in the attitude of doctors from the idea that alcoholism is a sign of a weak or evil character to the concept that it is a disease with an allergic or a metabolic deficiency component has been taking place gradually in the last 25 years. Now, from Canada comes a study of the women who marry men they know to be alcoholics. It is believed that both husband and wife in such a case are emotionally disturbed. Although both are seeking strength in their marriage, both are disappointed.

that her husband needs her ability to manage the home and children and needs her encouragement and love whether he is drunk or sober. Some cities now have organizations called Al-Anon for wives of AA members and Alateen for their teen-age children who are torn between love for their father and embarrassment about his sickness. These organizations are doing a fine job of bringing about a better family adjustment.

Squabble Over a Welfare Appointment

The wives have been found to fit roughly into one of the following categories:

Suffering Sue has an overpowering need to suffer. As long as her husband remains an alcoholic she's got it made but, if, through Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) or some other method, he quits drinking she will be forced to find some other reason to gripe. She may then bitterly accuse her husband of neglecting her and the children when he attends his AA meetings.

Controlling Kate can be relied on to choose a husband she believes is inferior to herself so she can dominate him. If he should chance to lick his alcoholism and show a little dominance on his own, the bickering will increase instead of decrease and the marriage may fail.

Punitive Polly considers all men unworthy. Her only reason for marrying one is so she can punish him for being such a lout. If he ceases to be a lout she feels that she has been swindled.

Wavering Winnie does not want to dominate her husband so much as she wants to protect him. She may even want to cure him. As long as she can give him moral support she feels needed but, when her laudable mission is accomplished, she feels left out. She is the easiest of the four to set on the right track. She needs only to be persuaded Frank McLarty, President and General Manager of Hope Auto Company, shown at extreme right, presents the keys to a new 1968 Ford to Charles Harrell, Parts Manager for the company for 44 years and who retired October 31. At left are Mrs. Harrell and Tom McLarty, vice president of Hope Auto. The presentation was made at a banquet for Mr. and Mrs. Harrell at the Town & Country Restaurant last week and attended by all Hope Auto Company employees who also gave Mr. Harrell a Gift certificate.

"Mr. Charlie" as he is affectionately called by Hope Auto employees and many other Hope citizens, came to Hope March 11, 1923. He was born and raised in Prescott, worked at the Ford Company there and had married November 5, 1922. A telephone interview with Mr. Harrell revealed many interesting facts: When Mr. Harrell came to Hope Auto, he was the only person in the parts department; now there are five. The first Ford he supplied parts for was a 1923 Model T and parts in those days were shipped to the dealers in used barrels. W. M. Cantley and E. O. Wingfield were his first bosses at Hope Auto and Tom McLarty was a salesman at that time. (He still is.) When asked about the parts business, Mr. Harrell stated that back in 1923 and later, the basic parts were interchangeable and would fit almost every Ford. About 1928 with the A models, parts became more intensified and has steadily increased until now practically no part will interchange.

Mr. Harrell told us that in his 44 years, he had trained approximately 40 to 50 men and four of those men have gone on to be successful dealers for themselves: Ray Turner, Bob Yarbrough, A. C. Willingham, who has an Agency in Texas and Frank McLarty, now president of the Company. Frank told the Star that part of his success as an automobile dealer was due to the training received under Mr. Harrell. Mr. and Mrs. Harrell are members of the First Methodist Church and have one daughter, Mrs. D. B. Russell of Dallas. When asked if he planned to retire or what he was going to do now, Mr. Charlie said, "I'll just play it by ear. I've always worked and I'll keep on trying to do something useful." The Star congratulates Mr. Harrell on his 44 years of devoted service and a successful career. We wish him every happiness in the future.

Chrysler and Union Start Bargaining

By KIT KINCADE Associated Press Writer DETROIT (AP) — Representatives of the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. began bargaining around the clock today trying to avert what would be the second nationwide strike in the auto industry this year.

Some Chrysler operations were threatened with premature shutdown before tonight's midnight strike deadline as truck drivers moving parts in the Detroit area and workers at one of the firm's two most important stamping operations walked off their jobs Tuesday.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president for administration, led the negotiating teams that have been bargaining for a new contract covering 103,000 workers. The latest session of bargaining began at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

More than 6,000 Chrysler employees refused to work at five operations around the country, including the Sterling stamping plant, the Trenton engine plant, and the Interplant transportation office, all in the Detroit area; the Newark, Del., car assembly plant; and the Missouri truck assembly plant near St. Louis.

UAW officials at the international level have been trying to keep their men on the job, a union spokesman said, but he pointed out that the work stoppages could not be called "wildcat strikes" since the union had no contract.

Baptists Elect Rev. Hinson

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Baptist Convention elected the Rev. Thomas A. Hinson as its president here Tuesday in a run-off between Hinson and Circuit Judge Tom Digby of Little Rock.

Digby was named first vice president by acclamation. The Rev. Hinson, 38, is pastor of the First Baptist Church of West Memphis. He was one of four persons nominated for the position. None received a clear majority on the first ballot.

The other nominees were the Rev. Burton Miley, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Springdale, and Dr. C. W. Caldwell, retired secretary for missions and evangelism of the convention and pastor of the Coleridge Baptist Church of Blytheville.

The Rev. Kenneth Threest, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Piggott, was elected second vice president.

The Rev. M. O. Stallings of Conway, a retired minister, introduced a resolution to strike the word "Baptist" from the Arkansas Baptist Medical Center here. His resolution was to be reported to the convention's resolutions committee for disposition.

Dr. Eerwin L. McDonald, editor of the Arkansas Baptist Newsmagazine, said Stallings' resolution would accomplish nothing, even if adopted, since the convention no longer has control of the medical center. Only the center's board of trustees could change its name now, he said.

The convention voted last year to relinquish its control of the medical center so that it could apply for federal aid. Stallings was one of those who opposed that action.

At a luncheon earlier in the day, the Rev. W. H. Dudley of Houston, president of the National Baptist Missionary Educational Convention, told the Arkansas convention that, "Some people think (integration) just happened in 1954."

"But let me tell you, it happened in creation," he said. "It was God's plan. It just took time to roll down to the decision of the Supreme Court."

That and other references to desegregation brought choruses of "amens" from the white ministers at the luncheon.

A report from the convention's executive board was to highlight concluding sessions of the convention today.

Negroes Win a Variety of Offices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Negroes won a variety of offices in Tuesday's election in Mississippi. Here is a list of Negro winners:

Democrat Carl B. Stokes won his battle to become mayor of Cleveland—and the first Negro chief executive of the eighth largest American city.

Democrat Richard G. Hatcher emerged the winner by 1,495 votes in the race for mayor of Gary, Ind.

Dr. W. Ferguson Reid, a surgeon, became the first Negro member of the Virginia state legislature since the Reconstruction days following the Civil War. He is a Democrat.

The Mississippi state legislature also saw its first Negro since the Reconstruction era with the apparent election of Robert Clark, an independent, by the voters of predominantly Negro Holmes County.

James M. Brady was easily elected sheriff in Charles City County southeast of Richmond, Va., defeating a white incumbent who had held the post 43 years. Mrs. Inna W. Adkins, a housewife and teacher's aide, won the Charles City County clerk's post by a substantial margin.

William C. Ross Jr. was elected to the school committee in Pittsfield, Mass., and James H. Wynn to the regional school committee in North Adams, Mass. They were both the first Negroes elected to public office in those towns.

In Boston where the race issue was an often unspoken factor in the mayor's race, Thomas

Williams Is Winner in Mississippi

By JAMES SAGGUS Associated Press Writer JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat who fought his party in Congress for 20 years, today celebrated a landslide victory for the governor's office over splintered Republican opposition by issuing a call for peace and harmony.

The 48-year-old attorney, purged of his seniority in Congress for backing Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964, smothered GOP candidate Rubel Phillips in Tuesday's general election turnout.

With 1,785 of the state's 2,15 precincts reporting, Williams had 263,613 votes to 113,375 for Phillips.

Voters in predominantly Negro Holmes County apparently named the first Negro to the legislature since the Reconstruction era, Robert Clark, an independent running with the backing of the Negro-dominated Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, defeated Rep. J. L. Love, 65, on the basis of unofficial returns. Love has served in the House since 1956.

The number of Negro office holders in the state rose to 24 with the election of six others, two each winning posts as county supervisors, constables and justices of the peace. Ethel Glen "Hop" Barnett, who received a mistrial last month in the trial of 18 men charged with conspiracy in the deaths of three civil rights workers at Philadelphia, Miss., in 1964, was elected sheriff of Neshoba County.

Williams, who will succeed Gov. Paul Johnson in January, attributed his victory to the conservatives of this traditionally Democratic state uniting behind him. He said he would re-enter the hospital here today for treatment of a leg condition, the result of a World War II plane crash, and decide later when to hold his first news conference.

An accomplished orator with a rapid-fire delivery, Williams scored his smashing victory by winning the support of his candidates he beat in the Democratic primary. He managed to spice his campaign barbs with enough humor to keep from alienating the losers' votes in the general election, and he had high praise for his opponents after eliminating them.

The Democrats, working to avoid the intraparty split that resulted in Phillips winning 38 per cent of the vote four years ago, refused to be drawn into an controversy with him this time. The strategy deprived Phillips of all issues.

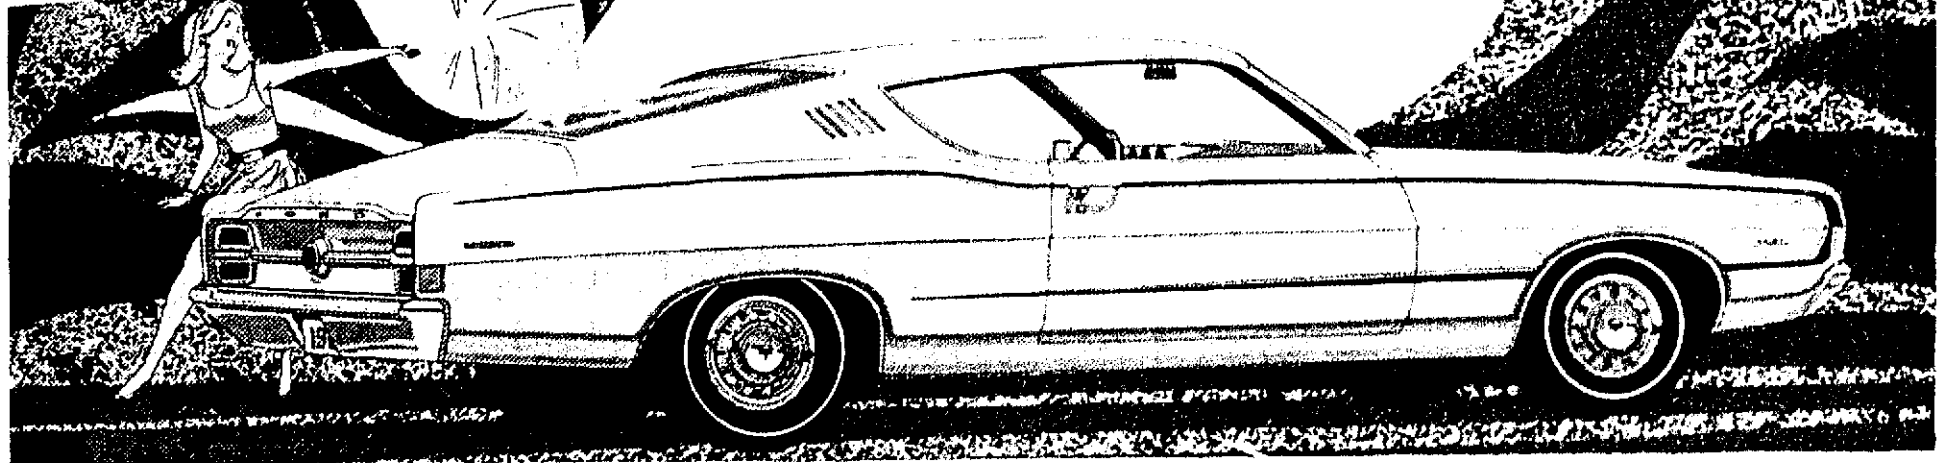

Both candidates billed themselves as conservatives and segregationists, but Phillips proposed that whites and Negroes work together to raise Mississippi from the bottom of the nation's economic ladder.

Cites Concern for Government

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas residents should always be as concerned about their government as they are during an election year, Lt. Gov. Maurice "Footsie" Britt said Tuesday.

Too often, he told a civic club, voters permit government on the state, county and local levels to operate "much as it pleases" between elections.

The only persons interested in government in many cases are office holders, governmental employees and special interest groups, he said.

Our City Streets -- Time Will Tell the Tax Story

Five of us thought the $765,000 package bond issue for Hope's streets was a good deal, but eight of you thought differently, and street improvement went down the drain in yesterday's municipal election -- and that's that.

Your editor was afraid of selective voting--perhaps favoring a property tax but opposing a city auto license--but that didn't happen. The people simply rejected all three proposals, by eight to five.

Some folks are confident that if they consistently vote against all taxes at all times they will save money. History doesn't show that. What history shows is the exact opposite--where the people are faced by a public need and reject a small and reasonable tax the need is eventually covered by a much larger and more unreasonable tax.

On paramount public needs like good schools and roads and streets I don't think the voters have any more freedom of choice than there is margin for error in an adding machine. Civilization demands these paramount things, and costs you refuse to meet gradually and gracefully are eventually forced upon you by the march of events.

It's not your editor's job to win elections; our responsibility is merely to point out the lessons of history, to recommend a reasonable preparation for the future, to tell you all this --and then let you decide.

The next few years, I believe, will show that the people of Hope made a mistake in yesterday's rejection of a small tax to improve our streets. A thundering big tax rise is just around the corner for American cities, something informed people know about but information that may not be general enough to influence a local election--as yet. Time, I am afraid, holds some unpleasant surprises.

The Star didn't originate the proposals in yesterday's street election, except possibly the revival of the automobile city license tax. We supported the street program as a whole because it seemed more reasonable and less burdensome than the alternatives which it ahead of us along with other American cities.

I wonder if you know these facts: Hundreds of American cities now levy city sales tax, or city income tax, or both. Neighboring Texarkana, Texas, has just taken on a city sales tax.

The Arkansas Municipal League has been advocating such authority for our state's cities for years, and it was once actually put before the voters as a state-wide enactment, but defeated. But the cities' need for additional taxes may eventually bring about its state-wide passage.

Such authority would be permissive. But there again, if local elections are called repeatedly there is a strong chance that the new taxes will eventually be authorized -- and Time will awaken the bewildered citizen to the fact that tax-wise he has saved a dime and squandered a dollar.

Do you know that city income taxes are levied against not only city residents but all those who work in cities even though they may live a dozen miles out of town? How can this be, you ask? It's simple. The city tax is deducted from your pay check -- and the courts everywhere have upheld the cities in their right to do this.

We didn't win yesterday's election battle -- but you may have lost the tax war. Time will tell. The Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals once called your editor "a true prophet on taxes." It wouldn't win me a popularity contest, but I'm not in politics -- therefore I am free to tell you the truth -- which is the reason for a newspaper's existence.

Auto Tests Explained Tonight

The operation of the upcoming motor vehicle inspection law will be explained to the public at a meeting in the courtroom of Hempstead country courthouse at 7:30 tonight (Wednesday).

The announcement was made by Trooper Bill Ingram of the Arkansas State Police, stationed at Magnolia, who will conduct the meeting in Hope. He will outline the law and answer questions from the audience.

Probable location of vehicle-testing stations and the procedure of a car or truck going through the tests, will be discussed.

Compulsory testing of motor vehicles for safe brakes, lights, and controls returns to Arkansas after a lapse of more than 20 years by virtue of a law enacted by the legislature early this year. Arkansas had compulsory motor car inspection back in the administrations of Gov. Carl E. Bailey, but the law was repealed thereafter.

Most states, however, make inspection compulsory for greater highway safety, and therefore Arkansas has reactivated the inspection law -- to be explained at tonight's meeting.

Egypt Is Disrupting UN Talks

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) -- The U.N. Security Council, already divided over rival proposals for a Middle East settlement, consulted today on Egyptian demands that it deal with Israel's refusal to withdraw from territory it occupied in the June war.

Delegates expressed belief that the 15-nation council would take up the Egyptian request Thursday.

One diplomat charged privately that Egypt was exerting a "disruptive influence" in calling at this stage for debate on territory that Israel seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria last June.

Egyptian sources said the meeting was requested to "precipitate action" by the various parties still bogged down after See EGYPT IS

American Youths Are in Big Money, They Spend Billions Yearly

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) -- Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: American teen-agers are in the big money. They now spend $18 billion a year. Older teenagers--have an average of $17 a week to spend from their own earnings and parental allowances.

Negro Elected Mayor of Cleveland, First in Any Big U.S. City

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) -- Cleveland Democrat Carl B. Stokes has become the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city, but Republicans claimed a pattern of victory and an omen for 1968 today in off-year elections which gave the GOP Kentucky's governorship and New Jersey's legislature.

Another Negro Democrat, Richard G. Hatcher, was elected mayor of Gary, Ind., while Louise Day Hicks' backslashed campaign was rejected at the Boston polls.

In Gary as in Cleveland, the mathematics of race was the crucial factor. And the issue of Negro-white balance in the public schools was a key question in Boston, where Secretary of State Kevin H. White was elected mayor in a nonpartisan run-off.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss saw in the election returns evidence "that the upsurge in Republican strength which began in 1966 is continuing."

Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey said he discerned no trend at all.

Democrats reclaimed the mayor's office in Baltimore, and held Philadelphia's City Hall despite internal discord and a stern GOP challenge.

On the GOP balance sheet, the Kentucky victory of Louie B. Nunn, rated something of an upset, put Republicans in charge in 26 of the 50 U.S. governor's offices. The states in the GOP column now represent 304 electoral votes, 34 more than the number needed to elect a president in 1968.

In Tuesday's only other gubernatorial vote, Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, predictably triumphed in a Mississippi landslide.

The off-year contests were scattered from New England to San Francisco, marked in many spots by the racial issue, and touched--Republicans said--by the standing of President Johnson and by the war in Vietnam.

Nunn, elected Kentucky's first Republican governor in 24 years, had aimed his campaign in large measure against Johnson and his war policies.

"Perhaps it's a victory for the people of America," Nunn said, "because I'm sure they're taking note at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue."

But in San Francisco, where the electorate had a chance to speak directly on the war issue, a ballot proposition urging a cease fire and U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam went down to resounding defeat. With 1,000 of 1,341 precincts counted, there

GARY, Ind. (AP) -- Democratic attorney Richard G. Hatcher, a Negro, was declared elected mayor of this steel city today but his own party's county chairman, John Krupa, immediately announced evidence of illegal voting.

Krupa, wearing his other hats as Lake County clerk and chairman of the county election board, said there was evidence of illegal procedure in three precincts. He said he would turn over the evidence to Judge George N. Boamer of the Northern Indiana U.S. District Court at Hammond. All the Gary election boards were served with federal orders to conduct a fair election. Krupa said the board refused to seat duly elected Republican members in one precinct, refused to honor challenges of illegal votes in another, and failed to comply with a law requiring voters to sign the poll books in a third precinct.

The county chairman earlier certified that Hatcher received 39,330 votes to 37,941 for Republican Joseph Radigan, a white man, a margin of 1,389.

Complete but unofficial returns showed that a record turnout had given Hatcher 39,904 votes to 38,409 for Radigan. Hatcher told 600 jubilant supporters at his headquarters, "We're convinced that we have won this election. Despite fears and rumors, our city is still intact."

Campaign tensions in the steel-making city of 180,000, of whom some 100,000 are Negroes, had prompted Gov. Roger D. Branigin to order National Guard and state police units to standby duty on the fringes of the city.

But the election went off without incident and Mayor A. Martin Katz, whom Hatcher defeated in the Democratic primary, said it was "the quietest election in the history of Gary."

In his victory speech, Hatcher urged that the peaceful tone continue.

White Is Winner at Boston

By JOHN J. MULLINS
Associated Press Writer
BOSTON (AP) -- Strong support from Negro voters helped Kevin H. White to a 12,000-vote victory Tuesday in his race against Louise Day Hicks for mayor of Boston.

While the race issue often went unspoken by either candidate during the campaign, Mrs. Hicks was known to be a vigorous opponent of busing to achieve racial balance in the city's schools.

"You know where I stand," she told the voters repeatedly. Unofficial returns from the city's 275 precincts gave White 102,551 votes to 90,122 for Mrs. Hicks.

A preliminary examination of voting patterns showed the white vote to be split about even and the Negro vote to be solidly behind White, the Massachusetts secretary of state.

In the city's three predominantly Negro wards--9, 12 and 14--White outpolled Mrs. Hicks 15,352 to 3,214. He also ran well in other Negro areas. Unofficial estimates place the total of Negroes among the city's 286,000 registered voters at 30,000.

White said, "No man or woman is going to tear this city apart with hate or bigotry or false promises."

Although racial issues were a key factor, observers estimated that Mrs. Hicks' position was weakened in the closing days of the campaign by her promise of $10,000 salaries for policemen and firemen without a tax increase.

White said her claim that federal funds would finance the 33 per cent increase amounted to "fiscal fantasy."

Both candidates in the non-partisan election were Democrats.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who had backed White, and Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, came to White's headquarters to congratulate him.

Peace Issue Beaten in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -- San Francisco voters soundly rejected Tuesday a peace proposition calling for an immediate cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal in the Vietnam war.

The final count from all 1,341 precincts gave 132,406 votes against cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam and 76,632 in favor.

Joseph Alloto, Democratic attorney elected as mayor in the nonpartisan municipal election, declared, however, he did not see the peace proposition result as a victory for Vietnam war hawks.

"Proposition P was defeated because it called for unconditional surrender for the United States," Alloto said.

The peace initiative, placed on the ballot only after successful appeal to the State Supreme Court, put this question to San Francisco voters:

"Shall it be the policy of the city and county of San Francisco that there be an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems?"

Alloto said he believed the peace proposition result should encourage those supporting a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam conflict.

"I personally feel there should be a negotiated peace, followed by an American withdrawal, and then a return to Vietnam with a massive American aid program," he said.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo. (AP) -- Dr. F. Clark Elkins, 44, who taught history and other social sciences at Henderson State Teachers' College after receiving his master's degree from the University of Arkansas, was installed here Tuesday as president of Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College.

All Three Issues in City Bond Election Tuesday Are Beaten

Local voters Tuesday defeated three bond issues totaling $765,000 to finance a street improvement program.

The proposed program would have paved main artery streets, widening streets, curb and gutter and new paving as well as street lighting.

Proposal No. 1 was beaten 599 for and 843 against.

Proposal No. 2 went down 575 for and 844 against.

Proposal No. 3 was defeated 592 for and 827 against.

The first proposal was for a $539,000 bond issued to be financed by a five mill property tax increase. The second was for $129,000 to be financed by a $5 annual tax on motor vehicles. The third was for $97,000, this to be financed by parking meter revenue.

Steel Object Is a Puzzle

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) -- The Air Force, the state Civil Defense Agency and the U.S. Weather Bureau are puzzled over a 23-inch, stainless steel sphere found last week in a wooded area 10 miles north of here.

Richard Cummings, 53, a Faulkner County farmer, found the object, which he describes as being so shiny "you can see it 20 miles away."

There is nothing to identify the mysterious object other than the words "Inspected by 2TSL," which are engraved on an area about the size of a dime.

Cummings says a "string" protruding from a small hole apparently is attached to a spring inside the sphere.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) -- Mayor Austin Franks predicted Tuesday that the City Council would give its unanimous approval to a proposed ordinance under which Pine Bluff's water supply would be fluoridated.

Final reading of the ordinance is scheduled for Dec. 4. If the measure is adopted, the General Waterworks Corp., will begin fluoridating the water Jan. 1.

Pine Bluff's water has never been fluoridated before.

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) -- A white father of five children was charged Tuesday with raping an 11-year-old Negro girl at a dumping ground south of here Sunday.

22 GIs Are Killed, 3 Planes Lost

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) -- A fierce U.S. Marine battle with North Vietnamese troops, Communist attacks up and down the country on provincial capitals and refugee hamlets, and heavy air strikes against North Vietnam that cost three American warplanes were reported today.

U.S. Marines charged through a screen of American tear gas to take a heavily fortified village which the North Vietnamese abandoned Tuesday after nearly 24 hours of hard fighting and bombardment in the coastal lowlands 27 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines reported 22 of their men killed and 58 wounded, most of them in a savage machine-gun crossfire from the enemy. The Leathernecks said they found 36 enemy bodies, but terrified villagers said the retreating Communists carried away at least two dozen of their dead.

Communist units also showed increased ferocity in meeting U.S. probes in which 30 Americans and 78 of the enemy were reported killed at Loc Ninh, 71 miles northwest of Saigon, and near Dak To, in the central highlands.

The step-up Communist activity and in Red opposition to U.S. search operations appeared to indicate that the Communists are not being as elusive as they have been and may be moving into positions for new thrusts on several fronts now that the monsoon rains have moved north. Intelligence reports indicate there are at least five Communist divisions in central Vietnam that may be poised for new offensives.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong launched a series of mortar and ground assaults before dawn on an airfield, a South Vietnamese special forces company with American advisers and the provincial capital of Cao Lanh. Fifty mortar rounds slammed into the provincial capital, killing two children and an adult and wounding 68 others.

In the air, Air Force fighter-bombers flew to within 21 miles of Red China's border Tuesday to again attack one of North Vietnam's two rail links with China. Navy planes hit the An Ninh Ngao shipyard and repair facility 12 miles northwest of Haiphong, apparently for the first time.

The Marine battle below Da Nang began Monday with a helicopter assault into a valley to kick off Operation Essex but the U.S. Command kept the drive under security wraps until today.

AP correspondent Bob Chiman, with units of the 5th Marine Regiment in the assault, reported two platoons were pinned down in rice paddies in a crossfire from enemy machine guns shortly after the landing.

The Leathernecks called for tear gas from U.S. fighter-jets at dusk Monday so they could retrieve their dead and wounded. There was sporadic fighting throughout the night, and the village was pounded with artillery, bombs and napalm.

Tuesday morning the village was again sprayed with tear gas and the Marines pushed in to find that the enemy had fled during the night.

Representative Named in Suit

MARION, Ark. (AP) -- State Rep. Lloyd C. McCuiston Jr. was named defendant Tuesday in a $208,000 suit brought in Circuit Court in Crittenden County.

The action is on behalf of Charles Eugene Jackson Jr., by his father, who blames the L. C. McCuiston & Son farm for the loss of the youngster's leg on Dec. 22, 1966, when the boy was nine.

The suit charges that James C. McCuiston III, then 13, was operating a tractor and stalk cutter which hit the Jackson boy, and should not have been permitted to run the machine by the elder McCuiston.

The Jacksons were tenants on McCuiston's property at the time.
